WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1908.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

4,760

The war-cloud in the East is merely a puff of smoke. Whiff, and it's away.

That Farr-Best wedding in a neighboring town must have been for better.

Speaker Cannon seems to have shot his bolt in popular favor. "Joe's" besetting sin was over-garrulousness.

The usual adjuration to the Vermont legislature to get to work and work is hereby offered, with the knowledge that the legislature will do just about as it pleases.

After all, perhaps it won't be necessary for President Roosevelt to take son-in-law "Nick" over his knee, for the latter says he did not make the statement that father-in-law ought to be returned to the White House after Taft.

Judge H. Henry Powers remarked some time ago that $750,000 worth of untaxed personal property could be dug up right in Morrisville. The voters thought the judge was about the right party to dig it up and put him in as a lister. And the joke of it is he found it, all right. Say, does Morrisville want to loan the judge to various other towns that would like his services?—Randolph Herald and News.

Now that Judge Powers has resigned as a Rutland railroad attorney, perhaps he will be available for Randolph and various other towns which may see fit to engage his services.

A SUGGESTION.

The Times would suggest to the members of the Vermont Automobile club who are soon to meet in Montpelier that it is only a short run to Barre and they can secure hotel accommodations here if places are scarce in Montpelier just at this particularly busy season of the year for the hotel men in the neighboring city. There are so many annual meetings to be held in Montpelier during the next two months that even a larger city than Montpelier might be taxed to accommodate the visitors. The Barre lathstring is out.

LEGAL PROFESSION OVERFULL?

With only five candidates for admission to the Vermont bar this year, we cannot with propriety complain of the overstocking of the legal profession. This small number of applicants indicates that fewer people than usual are turning their eyes toward the practice of the law in Vermont. This may be in part due to the constant preaching about the over-abundance of lawyers in the state, which has frightened prospective practitioners from their ambition. It may be that the allurements of business life in some of the larger industries of the state are proving too strong for the young person to resist as he weighs business and profession and sees, on the one hand, immediate and satisfactory returns, and, on the other, years of study and then years of waiting for the building up of a reputation which shall bring him emoluments of worth. Then again, it may be that the law of supply and demand is actually asserting itself in the legal profession and that there really are too many attorneys for the field. This is a very effective natural law. It works satisfactorily in other walks of life, and we see no reason why it cannot be equally effective in this matter of restricting the legal profession to the bounds of necessity. At any rate, five new attorneys will not glut the profession, and the number should be sufficient to meet the normal decrease.

ONE COURT LIKELY TO GO.

From judge of the Vermont court of claims to a United States congressman's seat is not a bad swap, and most anybody would like Frank Plumley's good fortune. In the same connection, it was much like the thing for E. R. Flinn of the same court of claims to resign now that he is assuming the duties of a state senator. Taft act leaves Linus Leavens to hold the fort against a growing sentiment that the court of claims ought to be abolished. In fact, it does look as if Judge Leavens might be dispossessed through the action of the legislature in lopping off this adjunct of the state's judiciary system.

GOOD RACING AT LEXINGTON.

The Harvester Won Three-year-old Division. Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—At the opening of the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Kentucky Horse Breeders' association yesterday, The Harvester, owned by August Uhlir of Milwaukee, driven by Ed. Geers, won the three-year-old division of the rich Kentucky futurity, said to be the best stake for trotting horses in the world. The race was easy for the victor, which in the last heat went the mile in 2:08 1/2, establishing a new record for the event. The Tennessee stake, 2:08 class, pacing, value $3,000, 3 in 5, was won by Jerry B. in seven heats. Minor Heir won the first two heats, making the best time of the race, 2:02, in the second. The Eel took the third heat, Copa D'Uro the fourth and Jerry B. the last three. His best time was 2:06 1/2. Four heats were required to decide the 2:08 class, pacing. Harry S. took the first heat and Isineta took the next three. The best time, 2:05 1/2, was made in the first and last heats.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Champlain Commission's Work.

The report of the Lake Champlain tercentenary commission, authorized by the last general assembly to make preliminary arrangements for the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the discovery of that body of water by Samuel de Champlain, has made its report. The commission visited the Canadian government and proposed the co-operation of the Dominion in the enterprise. The officials promised to accede, providing the United States as a government would take part. The commission thereupon visited Washington and Secretary Root and President Roosevelt approved the idea, but legislation could not be had at the then session of Congress. It is confidently expected that the next session will authorize the participation of the federal government in the event and will appropriate. Then Canada may be depended on to join also. The Vermont commission also visited New York and that state has appropriated $50,000 as its share in the celebration. Thus far Vermont has made no appropriation, but will be asked to at the coming legislative session. The commission asks for a sum of money sufficient to make a creditable showing of the state's interest in observing so historical an event. It recommends that a considerable part of the appropriation be set aside for the erection of a suitable monument to the discoverer at some proper location along the lake.—Randolph Herald and News.

CONVENTION OPENED.

State W. C. T. U. Meeting at Newport This Week.

Newport, Oct. 7.—The state convention of the W. C. T. U. was formally opened last night with a reception in the parlors of the Congregational church. The forenoon was devoted to a meeting of the executive committee and the afternoon to a conference conducted by Mary K. Fairbanks and a plan for the work next year. At the reception last evening, the following program was carried out: Convention introduction, Mrs. Ida H. Read, state president; greeting to the convention from the town, D. M. Camp; from the church, the Rev. J. J. Williams; the schools, E. S. Watson; the country, Mrs. M. L. Farrison of Coventry; the local union, Mrs. Emma Lane; response by county presidents; address, "The Triangle of the W. C. T. U.," Mrs. E. Meade Denny, Montpelier; announcements; benediction, the Rev. C. D. Lane.

DAY OF DIVORCES.

Franklin County Court Heard Many Cases Yesterday.

St. Albans, Oct. 7.—Divorces were the order of the day yesterday in Franklin county court, decisions being announced in five cases, as follows: R. M. Waterbury vs. Myrtle Waterbury, bill granted for intolerable severity; Colin McKowan vs. Park Lee McKowan, bill granted for neglect and refusal to support and the custody of the child awarded petitioner; Edward Bloomer vs. Georgianna Bloomer, bill granted for intolerable severity and custody of the child to the petitioner, Cora Donaldson vs. William R. Donaldson, bill granted for willful desertion and the custody of the children awarded the petitioner. In the case of Julia C. Pudvah vs. William Pudvah the case was dismissed without prejudice. The case of Booth vs. Booth was heard but no decision given.

BIG GAME THURSDAY.

New York and Chicago Will Play Off For Championship.

Cincinnati, Oct. 7.—For the first time in the history of the National league of base ball clubs, a post-season game for the settlement of the championship is announced for Thursday of this week, the tangle that arose over the late series in New York between New York and the Chicago clubs having brought a decision yesterday from the National league director to that effect.

NORTHFIELD

Death of Clark Flint, a Highly Respected Citizen.

Clark Flint passed away early yesterday morning at his home in Northfield, on the Roxbury road. He had been ill the past week with peritonitis, but his condition was not considered critical until a few hours before death came. Mr. Flint was about 58 years old and a highly respected citizen, having held many public offices and was well known in the vicinity, where he had resided practically all his life. He was a school director at the time of his death. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Gladys, and a son William.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Clara D., daughter of Major and Mrs. H. W. Hovey, and Mr. Dana Howes Gilman of St. Louis, formerly of Brattleboro, which takes place at St. Mary's church, Sunday evening, October 17.

Miss Cora Halbot, who has accepted a position as teacher in the high school in Brandon, left for that place Tuesday. Miss Florence King of Newton Center, Mass., who is to fill the vacancy caused by her resignation, arrived in town Monday night and commenced her duties Tuesday.

Activity at the granite sheds of the E. B. Ellis Granite company is beginning. Some 15 to 20 new men are already at work. The quarries at Bethel will soon be busy in getting out the stone for the large contract now in hand and it looks like a busy time ahead for the company.

H. D. Chamberlin, who a few years ago was superintendent of the Northfield Telephone company, has recently been promoted to manager of the telephone company at Carman, Manitoba. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin, who have been stationed at Winnipeg, have gone to Carman to assume his new position. Mrs. Chamberlin will be pleasantly remembered as Mrs. Alice McClean Mansfield, who was telephone operator at the central office here for sometime.

CHELSEA

Fred Waldo's daughter is quite ill. Dr. Marshall is attending her.

Fred Waldo is very ill and Dr. Godfrey is the attending physician.

Ordway went to New York Monday to buy goods for his fall trade.

Mrs. Laura Berry, who has been in poor health all summer is not as well at this writing.

Miss Harvey, who has been teaching the fall term of school on the west hill is dangerously ill.

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith went to Northfield Monday to visit their daughter, Mrs. C. M. Goodrich.

C. L. Spear, J. M. Scribner and Foster McGuire of Corinth also B. F. Fulmar of Vershire were in town Monday on business.

Mrs. Fred Tracy returned home Wednesday from Plattsburg, N. Y., where she has been visiting friends the past three weeks.

G. L. Stover, Hale K. Darling and Stanley Wilson went to Montpelier Tuesday to be present at the opening of the supreme court.

EAST BARRE.

Silver Leaf Circle, No. 828, will hold its third annual fair in opera house hall October 14, 15, 16 and 17. A grand entertainment every night. The ladies of Silver Leaf Circle will give an exhibition drill the 14th. The ladies of Clan Gordon and the Old Ladies of Barre will give their fancy drill the 15th. Band concert the 16th. The Sporting World.

The isthmus of Panama will have a six team professional baseball league during the winter.

Manager Larry Lajola of the Cleveland Americans was recently presented with the first baseball contract he ever signed at Fall River in 1896.

The Eel, 2:02 1/2, now has the distinction of such it be—of being the champion hopped pacing stallion. Hazel Patch, 2:02 1/2, formerly held the record.

Sam Langford, the colored middle-weight pugilist, in twenty-eight years old and has been fighting six years. In that time he has climbed to the highest ranking in pugilism.

Train and Track.

The average number of deaths through railway accidents in Holland is one a year.

Railroad transportation in the United States was substantially seventy-five years old in 1907.

Formosa had only sixty-two miles of railways in 1895. Since 1899 the Japanese government has spent nearly $13,000,000 on the railroad development of that country.

Quickly Hatched.

A Mathematical Name.

A remarkable name was that of the late Admiral W. W. Wood, which the cadets at the Annapolis Naval academy, when he was an instructor in mathematics there, always wrote "W cube, O square D."

The Mistletoe.

The practice of kissing under the mistletoe is of very ancient origin, as it dates from the days of the Druids, when no doubt it had a religious meaning.

Oysters.

Every oyster has a mouth, a heart, a liver, a stomach, besides many curious devices intestines and other necessary organs such as would be handy to a living, moving, intelligent creature. The mouth is at the end of the shell, near the hinge and adjoining the toothed portion of the oyster's pearly covering.

JINGLES AND JESTS

Too Steady.

The irate old farmer entered the employment office.
"You sent me out a batch of farm hands, didn't you?" he blustered.
"Yes, sir," replied the clerk meekly.
"And when I asked you if they were swift workers you said they were regular engines?"
"I think so."
"Was, by heck, they must be stationary engines then."
"Why so?"
"Because when they once get out on the barn fence they don't move until they hear the dinner horn."—Pittsburg Post.

Cupid Incog.

Came one in gown of silk and lace, With such a winsome little face, Craving my hospitality. I could not less than turn the key And throw my guarded portal wide That she might rest awhile inside. Alas, once in my castle grim, The dainty damsel, shy and prim, Drew hidden bow and sent a shaft That hit me fairly—aye, and laughed, "O silly dreamer, dull and stupid, So to forget that Master Cupid One year in four has leave to go A-hunting hearts incognito!"—Brooklyn Life.

Animal Food.

Howell—Poor Howell's case was a sad one.

Powell—Indeed? How?
Howell—He had been a vegetarian for years, and the other evening, when he opened his mouth to advise some friends to go and do likewise, he swallowed a bug.—Harper's Weekly.

Campaigning.

The train comes whizzing down the track And halts amid the cheers, And on the platform at the back The candidate appears.

He gestures as he hoarsely speaks, His words are far from plain, And then the engine hoarsely shrieks And drags away the train.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Why He Persisted.

"Your persistence in regard to this rumor annoys me," snapped the prima donna. "I have already told you that I am not even thinking of matrimony."
"I know," replied the reporter, "but I have noticed that divas frequently seem to marry without stopping to think about it."—Kansas City Times.

A Whaling Yarn.

Said an old whaler tar As he sat on a spar: "I've a question asked by a land lubber, 'Do fish ever weep When they swim in the deep?' I'm not sure. Anyway I have the say. I've often known sperm whales to blubber!"
—Chicago News.

Not Intentional.

Rev. Riddle, D. D.—I was grieved to see your husband walk out of church yesterday.
Mrs. Pipp—You must excuse John. He always walks in his sleep.—St. Louis Times.

Holiday's Advance Note.

Soon comes the season when the swain Will grease his shoes and dress up fine, Then will he hang the mistletoe, And the miss 'll toe the line.
—New York Globe.

Made Good With Wind.

"He announced that he would make a whirlwind campaign."
"Well, he did do a great deal of blowing."—Kansas City Times.

Overdue.

Advised to try the barefoot cure? By doctors one and all, he tried. "This shoeless!" he exclaimed at length. And then, perchance for shame, he died.
—Puck.

The Tough Bluff.

"He's a would be bruiser, isn't he?"
"No; just a would appear bruiser."—Kansas City Times.

A Check Book.

Men's lives should be open books. So their good wives expect, And they seem to think each page Should represent a check.
